DISPENSERS OF LIQUOR WARNED TO USE JUDGMENT

STATE OFFICER SAYS
RETAILERS SHOULD
POLICE OWN BUSINESSES

OAKLAND — Three principal problems of the liquor industry were discussed with liquor licensees and public officials of Alameda County by Fred E. Stewart, member of the State Board of Equalization, Tuesday night at the Oakland Auditorium theater.

Stewart told the licensees they must do a better job of policing their own business, to effect an immediate and drastic reduction in drunken driving, stop sale of liquor to minors and prevent excessive drinking among men in military uniforms.

"California has the most liberal liquor control act of any state in the Union," Stewart said. "That act was voted by the people of the state, and the people may take it away from you unless you cooperate to the fullest extent with local and state enforcement officers to observe and enforce the law."

"After all, it is your investment, and it is up to you to protect that investment. You can be your own best police."

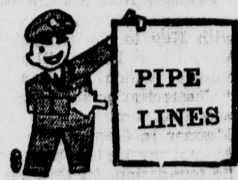

Legislative changes in liquor laws which went into effect on September 13 were explained by Curtis Palmer of Sacramento, attorney for the liquor control division of the State Board of Equalization. Stewart and Palmer answered many questions concerning operation of the liquor laws, particularly in reference to sales to minors and men in uniform.

E. Raymond Cato, chief of the California Highway Patrol, spoke upon the problem of highway accidents and drunken driving, asserting that more than 3,000 persons have been killed in traffic accidents in California so far in 1941. Cato estimated that liquor was involved in some way with 30 per cent of highway accidents.

The army was represented by Major W. R. Jones and Captain R. A. Harder, while Lieutenant E. E. Mann of the Marine Corps represented Captain F. R. McCrary, commanding officer of the Alameda Naval Air Station. Many public officials of the county and state were introduced.

GAME REPORT

Coastal area from Sonoma County to San Luis Obispo County — Both pheasant and quail hunting has been very unfavorable in most of this area. However, in Alameda and Contra Costa counties quail hunting rates from fair to good. Striped bass fishermen are taking fish at Petaluma Creek and in the Napa River. Most bay fishermen are working above Carquinez Bridge. Duck hunting has been poor along the coast, although some hope for the next week is garnered from the arrival of thousands of new sprig on lower San Francisco Bay.

BURNED MAN'S FATE BEING INVESTIGATED FOLLOWING INQUEST

The sheriff's and district attorney's offices are investigating further into the death by burning of Manuel Ortega, 38, Decoto pool hall proprietor on November 10, near Alvarado, following an inquest held recently in the Berge Mortuary at Niles by Dr. Mark Emerson, county coroner. The autopsy showed a bruise on the forehead and Vincent Dias of Newark, the first to reach the overturned car testified that flames were shooting from the car before he reached it.

Believing the gas tank had already exploded, he made efforts to extricate the man who was trapped in his car when the gas tank then exploded, making further rescue efforts impossible.

The fate of the sum of $150 the dead man is alleged to have had on his person also has not been determined.

San Francisco's warmest days are only about 11.5 degrees higher than the coolest days.

CITIZENS ASKED TO SIGN UP FOR CIVILIAN DEFENSE ON DECEMBER 1

OAKLAND — Enrollment blanks and identification cards have been formally adopted by the Alameda County Council of Defense in preparation for Civilian Defense Enrollment Week, starting December first.

Throughout the ten cities and the unincorporated area of the county a uniform plan will be followed, both for enrollment and for the basic training course which will follow, beginning January fifth.

Volunteers will sign up at the Alameda County Court House, at all city halls, police and fire stations, township justice' courts, sheriff's offices, public schools and libraries and through such civic, fraternal, labor, veterans and other organizations as desire to enroll their own members.

Identification cards are to be issued to every volunteer, based upon a questionnaire which covers a comprehensive survey of each individual's qualifications.

Previous experience and training, with available time for training, will be specified by each applicant.

Identification cards, bearing the Civilian Defense insignia and the name and address of the defense volunteer, have printed on the reverse side a list for checking attendance at the basic training classes.

Studies will include the civilian defense plan, extinguishing small fires, incendiary bombs, explosive bombs, chemical warfare, equipment and duties of defense wardens, first aid, communications, identification of persons and property and public relations.

The enrollment and training course will be conducted by the following councils of defense: Alameda County and the cities of Alameda, Albany, Berkeley, Emeryville, Hayward, Livermore, Piedmont, Pleasanton and San Leandro.

Each volunteer for the civil protection program will be given specified duties and responsibilities and will emphasize his sincerity of purpose by signing the Civilian Defense Oath which states, "I faithfully pledge my devotion to my country, the United States of America. When called upon for Civilian Defense Service, I agree to put myself under orders. I solemnly promise to perform to the best of my ability the tasks assigned to me until such time as I am relieved of my responsibility. I will strive unceasingly to do my duty so long as my services are needed."

Cards and questionnaires are now being printed in preparation for the large corps of volunteers which is anticipated.

NEW HOMES TO BE BUILT IN CANYON HEIGHTS

MANAGEMENT OFFERS
MODERN HOMES TO COMMUTING EMPLOYEES

The Canyon Heights Development company, who are building new homes at the entrance to Niles Canyon, overlooking Alameda Creek and environs, are offering several new homes for sale. These modern homes, now under course of construction, should prove especially desirable for employees of industrial establishments in Washington Township, who, through lack of houses here, are daily driving long distances to and from their place of work.

This modern, high class development site, which is F. H. A. approved enjoys a peculiarly fine, fog-free climate. Some 30 lots have already been sold, with only a few left. One home, already finished, is awaiting installation of a septic tank, following which the new owner, E. H. Frick will move over from Newark and take occupancy.

Another modern home, being built by Charles Underwood of Niles has the roof and sides on and is awaiting plastering.

Construction of four more homes is under way, three of which, when completed will be available for sale. A second group of four houses is to be started soon, and these may be purchased from the floor plans.

Water connections are already installed, as well as electric lights and power, and the Pacific Gas & Electric company has applied for permission to make gas installations.

The tract owners, A. L. Bailey and E. W. Stenhammer also own a large tract adjoining the present subdivision, which will be divided up into about 100 lots. The second tract extends east of the first tract and runs to a point where a beautiful view of the Canyon can be obtained.

The company's advertisement appears on page five of this issue and explains in detail just what this unusual site offers future home owners here.

CUB PACK MAY BE ADDED TO IRVINGTON TROOP

IRVINGTON — Cubbing, the program of the Boy Scouts of America for boys under Scout age is being considered by Irvington people as an adjunct to the fine work being done by the Irvington Boy Scout Troop. This program, designed for boys of 9, 10 and 11 years of age is a definite part of the work of the Boy Scouts of America. It brings about a definite relationship between boy and parents and is usually sponsored by the Parent Teacher Association. A survey of parent interest in the organization of an Irvington Cub group is now being conducted through the Irvington Grammar School by Principal Jack Prouty.

A Cub pack would be a fine companion organization to Troop 1 of Irvington. This troop, sponsored by the Irvington Boosters club is under the able leadership of Scoutmaster J. R. Silveria who has built up a fine troop with an active program of scouting activities. They have had a growth of 25 per cent since a year ago.

Ten of the scouts participated in the Washington Township Camp near Yosemite National Park last summer and two more attended Council Camp at Diamond T. Scoutmaster Silveria has been able to promote fine advancement of the scouts through the various ranks of scouting and as a result a number of scouts will be recognized for their advancement at the next Court of Honor.

George Scammon, chairman of the Troop Committee who has served in that capacity for a number of years is very complimentary of the work being done by the Scoutmaster and the boys of the troop.

McGILL, THE MAGICIAN TO PRESENT PROGRAM

RED CROSS CHAPTER DOES LOCAL WELFARE

CENTERVILLE — A delegation from Washington Township attended the Red Cross Luncheon held at the Women's City Club in Oakland last week. Chairman F. T. Dusterberry reported that we have not completed our quota and an effort would be made to finish the work by the end of the week. A final report for the county will be given at a meeting in Oakland December 3. Mr. Dusterberry in commenting on the drive said that many people were under the impression that Red Cross did no work in our home area. That is a mistake. Relief given is not publicized as it would tend to embarrass the family.

As concrete examples he mentioned the following relief and other work for the past week: rent paid for the family of a service man who was about to be turned into the street, emergency groceries furnished and the matter referred to the county authorities; Three cases of investigating home conditions of service men and measures taken to relieve them where necessary; arrangements made by telegraph through Red Cross representative at Camp Roberts for an immediate furlough for a service man so that he might arrive at the bedside of his mother who was not expected to live.

The sad duty of informing the family of a sailor on the Rueben James that their son was reported missing and advising them of their rights to apply for accrued pay and insurance and seeing that they are properly cared for in the mean time.

Tenth District President Mrs. Tom Alves of Livermore was a guest at the recent meeting.

Coit and Marguerite Coit Massa, all brothers and sisters.

NEWARK SPORTSMEN FURNISH MOST OF NEWARK'S ACTIVITIES

NEWARK — The Newark Sportsmen's Club is now sponsoring three different types of sports, namely: shooting, baseball and bowling and the Westvaco Chlorine Products Corporation are sponsoring a bowling team.

The Sportsmen held their second turkey shoot for the winter Sunday at their hunting grounds, one mile west of Newark. Many sportsmen throughout Washington Township were present.

The Sportsmen's baseball team aided by that scrappy manager, Henry Nunes, is situated in second place in the winter division of the Southern Alameda County League.

The Sportsmen's bowling team, with high point man, Stanley Majeski, are the champs of a recent bowling league in Hayward. The Sportsmen are again bowling in Hayward.

The Westvaco Chlorine Products Corporation are bowling in the San Jose Industrial League. Carm Romano is the team captain. Team shirts have been procured and the boys have been bowling in the league since October 9.

Newark seems to be the most popular spot in Southern Alameda County for duck and pheasant hunting.

ECONOMIC EXPERT TO SPEAK AT PUBLIC FORUM

CENTERVILLE — Dr. Theodore Kreps, Professor of Business Economics at Stanford University, will speak to the Forum next Monday evening, December 1, on the timely topic "Can Our Democracy Solve Its Economic Problems."

Professor Kreps is not only a student of the economics of government, but is an adviser to governmental agencies. Last summer he served as chief consultant, Office of Price Administration, in Washington. In recent years he has served the federal government as a research consultant of National Resources Committee, Economic adviser in the Anti-trust division of the Department of Justice, economic adviser to the Temporary National Economic Committee, and economic adviser to the Maritime Commission.

Dr. Kreps is the author of many publications in the field of economics and has traveled extensively in Europe and the Orient. He served as First Lieutenant, A.E.F., in France 1917-1919.

As a government economist, Professor Kreps is expected to suggest practical solutions for the many economic problems facing our democracy today. Since he has been closely associated with the present administration he will undoubtedly throw much light upon the government's plans to finance defense, solve priority unemployment and meet the problems of the post-war era when depression may again undermine our democracy. Dr. Kreps work in the Office of Price Administration has made him familiar with the price and wage control problems of our nation.

Everyone is urged to attend Monday's Forum in the Washington Union High school auditorium in Centerville and hear this governmental expert speak on the subject which baffles most of us in these days of economic unrest. Ample opportunity to question Dr. Kreps will be provided at the close of his address.

STATE FARMERS OFFER NOTED SPEAKERS MONDAY

SACRAMENTO — Flying direct to Sacramento from Washington, D. C. to bring the latest graphic picture of the national business and labor situation as seen in the nation's capital, Congressman Leonard M. Ford of Santa Monica, will be the main speaker at the eighth annual convention of the Associated Farmers of California in Sacramento December 1 and 2. W. G. Wagoner, Livermore, president of the Alameda County Associated Farmers announced here today.

Background of proposed history-making anti-strike legislation will be included in Ford's speech before the organization the evening of December 2. The congressman has been an active critic of administration labor policies and will headline a brilliant array of speakers for the annual parley in the capital, according to Wagoner.

The list of speakers also includes noted William W. Gail of Billings, Montana, one of the best known humorists in America whose trenchant wit more than once has scored points otherwise unattainable in the case of labor relations; William Starke Rosecrans, of Los Angeles, district coordinator of contract distribution and priorities in the office of production management, whose agricultural and civic background and impressive speaking record led to his appointment as agricultural representative for the West in the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and president of the U. S. Forestry association; and Russell Parsons, famous Los Angeles attorney, who first won national recognition as special prosecutor of I. W. W. agitators following World War No. 1 and later was one of the men to first handle the successful prosecution of sit-down strikers in the nation.

YOUTH ADMITS HIT AND RUN CHARGE; WAITS CERTIFICATION

Judge J. A. Silva has continued to November 28 at 2 o'clock the hearing of Porfirio Guerrero, 16 of Decoto, who surrendered to Hayward police Thanksgiving night, saying he had run into Martin Lohla, 67 of Decoto on September 26, who subsequently died from his injuries.

The prisoner, a former student at the Niles and Decoto Grammar schools says he did not see the man, and then ran away after the collision because he was frightened. His parents have moved from Decoto since his disappearance after the accident and he does not know where they are. The youth has been maintaining himself at odd jobs, he told the court.

AIDS BOND SALES

Leonard Osmond, Niles life insurance agent, along with insurance solicitors everywhere is assisting in contacting large employers in the effort to have their employees allot a certain amount of their pay-checks towards the regular purchase of U.S. Defense Bonds and Stamps. It has been found that wage-earners who budget a certain amount of their earnings at the source, soon come into possession of paid-up bonds, thus increasing the individual's net worth, he says.

SPORTSMEN WIN BALL GAME IN TWELFTH FRAME

NEWARK — Baseball fans of Oakland were treated to a fine exhibition of the national pastime, when the Newark Sportsmen tangled with the Melrose Boosters of Oakland last Sunday. After twelve torrid innings the Sportsmen emerged victorious by the score of 3 to 1.

Southpaw Roderick of Newark took a page from the book of the famous Rube Waddell in limiting the Boosters to four hits while striking out thirteen batters. Outside of the fourth inning when the Melrose Club scored their only run, he was not in very much danger of getting scored upon. Catcher Clarence Soito was a bulwark on the defense; he held his mate up in great style. His aggressive peppery play was a source of inspiration to his teammates.

Newark was the first to score breaking the ice in the second inning. Rufus Lebon reached first when he beat out an infield single, took second on a wild pitch, and scored on Jack Silva's single to center field.

The Boosters knotted the count in the fourth. Ferraro reached first on a fielder's choice, advanced to second when a batter struck out, and scored on King's single to right. This was all of the scoring for both clubs, until the twelfth when the Sportsmen rallied to score the winning runs.

It is not definitely known whether the Sportsmen will play next Sunday. They were able to play all of the games in the first round in the Winter League of the Southern Alameda County Division, but they may be idle next Sunday while the other clubs are playing a postponed game.

Deputy Attorney Joe Shenone is endeavoring to ascertain proof of age to submit to the court before the youth is certified to be Juvenile Court.

1941 RECORD OF CAR DEATHS IS WORST YET

SACRAMENTO — The Department of Motor Vehicles today estimated the number of California dead from traffic accidents at 3,183 for the first eleven months of 1941. With still a month to go, this exceeds by 44 the highest previous record for an entire year, the prior record having been established in 1937 when 3,139 persons met their death in traffic mishaps. It is 492 more traffic deaths than occurred in California during the first eleven months of last year.

The number of injured for the first eleven months of 1941 was estimated at 62,195 — approximately 10,000 more than were reported for the same period of 1940.

Pedestrian deaths alone for the eleven month period were given at 1,114 and pedestrians injured at 9,004. Since most of these accidents occurred after dark, Department officials stressed the wearing of white articles of clothing at night by pedestrians in order that they may be seen more readily.

Factors blamed by the Department for the heavy increase in deaths and accidents were the concentration of national defense activities in California and inadequacy of the present personnel of the Highway Patrol to patrol the highways under existing conditions.

LIFE IN 1941

The days are going along swell. You and I are busy planning our own affairs, looking forward to Christmas, arranging to buy this or that present for those we love... then suddenly it hits us that a great war is on: our country is arming, taxes are piling up, living costs are rising; shortages are appearing in this or that material... and you sort of come to earth with a thud.

Then you read in the daily papers or hear over the radio that the doughty British are using the Germans' own methods in North Africa and are pinching off Nazi troops beleaguered there: 15,000 taken prisoner; 6,000 sunk in a convoy attack, and you think: thank Heavens, there's that many less Nazis left alive!

Then you read that the government has suddenly waked up to the fact that there are a lot of undeveloped mineral resources still untouched in our country, development of which will give work to idle people and will help to relieve metal shortages. You start feeling pretty good again.

You read that American-made planes and tanks now fighting in Africa are the best in the field. You read that the C.C.C. and N.Y.A. have turned back $100,000,000 in un-needed appropriations to the federal government. You read that the State of California is rolling up surpluses in tax revenues and you pray that the next legislature will cut the sales tax rate, or something.

Then you buy a new tire or radio and pay your excise tax; then you pay your sales tax, figured not on the list price of the article, but on the list-price-plus-excise-tax figure, thus paying a tax on a tax. One minute life seems to make sense, then the next minute it doesn't.

Meantime we can go right ahead living it: being thankful we have a warm house to live in, plenty to eat, a car in good condition, steady work and a steady income, a family to take care of, and passable health. You put your thumbs up and say, "Ho, hum... it might be worse!"

This is just life in the late fall of the year 1941, and there's another year coming, quite as usual, to be filled with its ups and downs, its good news and bad, its pleasures and disappointments. So life goes on and on, the war and taxes notwithstanding.

— Buy Defense Bonds and Stamps —

And what do the Nazis refer to as their "axis"? Perhaps they don't wish anyone else to "axis-t" on the same plane with them. (Ouch!) And we know we won't have to.

SURPRISE! SURPRISE! !

Hitler has called Von Ribbentrop on the carpet again for mis-advicing him about what America would do. Two years ago Von Ribbentrop was distinctly on the skids because he mis-adviced Hitler that England would not go to war.

This time he advised his chief that America was decadent and inefficient and Adolf had nothing to fear there... Not until the Boeing fortresses came over Berlin, flying so high Messerschmitt interceptors and ack-ack fire could not touch them; and the American-made planes' bombings were so accurate because of our secret bombsight it knocked the Nazis cold.

So Von Ribbentrop quaking for his own security, has surrounded himself with an army of S. A. troopers at his private beck and call with which to stand off Himmler and his Gestapo and Goering and his air force. When Hitler shoots his brains out in a fit of madness the resultant day of the Feast of Jackals is going to be LOVELY — when his successors fight it out among themselves for control of the Nazi state. Hess, Adolf's pet, was slated for his successor. With Hess interned in England it is anybody's guess who will wear Hitler's blood-soaked toga when the little man "ends it all."

Goebbels' propaganda regarding the senility of the Americans has fallen flat on German ears. The citizenry has seen American-made movies, have ridden in American-made cars... and they remember the last war.

To make the citizens even more unhappy, the Nazis soldiers themselves, now freezing to death on the Russian front, want none of Hitler's "new Europe." All they want is peace and home — and warmth. The discontent is now so bad within the German ranks, according to a Washington reporter, that German army authorities have ordered all soldier letters sent back home destroyed if they express disinterest in the Russian campaign and its accompanying conditions of hardship.

Standing on the side, champing its jaws and waiting to grab a bite from the Nazi body-politic is the old German military clique, the descendants of Ludendorff, Von Hindenburg and the old Prussian military hierarchy, which has never had any stomach for Hitler and his'n — anxious to jump in and take charge.

One day soon we will see the German military, the Nazi storm-troopers, the Gestapo and other disaffected groups tearing into each other's vitals and then the war will end... and the "new order," founded on blood, terror and death will fall apart like any other ill-fitted structure.

Until which happy day arrives we will go on arming and expanding. America now has troops and bases not only in Iceland, but in North Ireland and just this week, in Dutch Guiana in South America. Our planes and ships are conveying our supplies to Europe.

The end is of course obvious — although it is not yet in sight.

"FLYING TANKS"

According to a recent radio newscast, not yet verified by newspaper accounts, the Russians have developed a weapon of war which has the Nazi puzzled.

It is a "flying tank," a slow, heavily armored, invulnerable airplane of high power and relatively slow speed, which lumbers along, shooting at what it pleases on earth and in the air. Bullets from Nazi planes and anti-aircraft guns bounce off it, and incendiary bullets fail to set it afire.

See the picture? A flying fort, which can survive a hail of bullets and wreak its own deadly destruction. There's some sense to that.

For years military airplane designers have built planes which fly faster and faster in order to attack and get away from the enemy; then the enemy designs a faster plane, etc. etc. until combat planes now operate at 400 miles per hour — and get shot down just the same.

A slow, lumbering deadly, fully-protected plane is the answer: less expensive to build, safer to operate at lower speed, and it is indifferent to attackers. Thus does genius devise a weapon based on horse sense. Genius and horse sense, together with rotting within the Nazi body, will win this war!

Some folks say "no fair" because the President advanced national Thanksgiving Day a week, and himself did not observe the holiday he designated on the 20th, because of a head cold and affairs of state.

He ate his Thanksgiving dinner on the 27th at Warm Springs, Georgia. — On either date it was still a Thanksgiving "fare."

HENRY WARD BEECHER COMES TO LIFE

Time turned back a half century to the days of Henry Ward Beecher, Harriett Beecher Stowe and Felicia Hemans last Thursday morning when Dr. George W. Phillips, Pastor of the Tenth Avenue Baptist church of Oakland delivered a ringing sermon on Militant Democracy and The American Privilege.

In manner, dress and oratorical ruggedness he brought to a packed congregation at the Thanksgiving morning worship service in the Niles Congregational Church the measure of American manhood that was William Jennings Bryan's and Theodore Roosevelt's.

He spoke with the inspired sincerity and incarnate fire of that Americanism which has all but vanished and which so badly needs to be rekindled in the lives and hearts of we lazy, careless moderns.

Chairman Jack Rees of the Public Forum series now under way at Washington High School has been asked to secure Dr. Phillips for the closing address of the second forum series on December 8.

Citizens whose candles of patriotism are sputtering in wayward breezes should bring their feeble lights there to have them fully re-kindled — if Dr. Phillips' services can be secured! — W.W.

NEWARK TO REORGANIZE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

By: Eugene Pashote

NEWARK — The Newark Boosters Club, interested in the promotion of the civic affairs and general welfare of the town of Newark, at its recent meeting favored a proposal to reorganize the Newark Chamber of Commerce at a mass meeting to be held Monday, December 1 at the Newark School auditorium at 8 p. m.

It is imperative that any town desiring to be successful must have a strong and active organization for the promotion of its general welfare and activities and to act as its spokesman.

In an incorporated town, the city council and city government generally serve this purpose, but in an unincorporated town like Newark, by reason of the absence of a city council and city government, it is obviously necessary that a strong and active civic organization should prevail.

At present, Newark like other communities, is confronted with a National Defense Area problem affecting the obtaining of essential materials for business and industry. Also there is pending the matter of the proposed East Shore Highway, its possibilities and advantages to Newark by reason of Newark being the only town at or near this highway between Oakland and San Jose. Also there is the consideration pending of making the proposed Highway a National Defense project, which would be a favorable position relative to the National Defense Area problem.

In order that Newark may receive the proper consideration in all these matters effecting its welfare, it is apparent, first of all that it should be represented by a strong and effective civic organization, hence the proposal to reorganize the Chamber of Commerce.

All persons and organizations interested are invited to attend. The meeting will be open to any and all suggestions.

ALAMEDA COUNTY BOY SCOUTS ARE "READY"

A youthful army exists in Alameda county, a valiant legion that can mobilize a force of between two and three thousand in less than two hours, faced with an emergency. Boy Scouts of America are now undergoing a national training program affiliated with civilian defense work and Scouts of Oakland and neighboring areas are attaining a high record in this newest endeavor of their forces.

According to Homer J. Bemiss, ranking Scout Executive of Oakland, a test mobilization was held recently in Hayward during which eighty per cent of the membership assembled in one hour.

"Between two and three thousand boys will mobilize in this county in about an hour and a half," declares Bemiss, who is the Scout representative on the Alameda County Council of Defense.

Local scouts, he explains, are preparing for assistance in first aid and all emergency work including communication, or advanced messenger service, the transfer of injured persons, assistance in feeding and housing projects, water patrol, life-saving and boat work.

A large corps of boys who are fifteen years of age and over are being selected for physical and mental fitness and special abilities. These will be used for the highest type of scout emergency work and they must all be boys who have won their merit badges in pioneering, public health, life saving first aid, cooking and other fields essential to civilian defense work.

Bemiss, who has been Scout Executive of Oakland Area Council since 1919 has watched the organization grow to its present efficiency and numbers.

"In Alameda county we now have approximately six thousand and boy scouts," he discloses, "with four local councils governing the four divisional areas and approximately 225 troops, including boys of from twelve to eighteen. In addition to this number we have approximately 2500 cubs, or boys of from nine to twelve, and also affiliated with the organization throughout the county are about 2700 men who serve as volunteer scout executives."

From which it may be seen that in any emergency of civilian defense, the Boy Scouts of Alameda County will serve this district as ably as their brother scouts of England have been performing overseas.

GLANCING

By: Your Editor.

ENVELOPES — Wow! The way way the price of printing papers is going up is a caution. The jobbers have to raise the price to the printers because the mills raise the prices to the wholesalers. Why the paper mills are raising their prices so high is not apparent, — unless the government is using wood pulp to make tanks and munitions with!

Getting down to cases: 1,000 average commercial grade business envelopes which cost $1.90 per thousand in San Francisco as late as September 21, on October 27 jumped to $3.09 per thousand for the same article . . . or nearly double.

So the commercial printers are forced to raise their prices to their customers for even the most ordinary jobs of commercial printing.

Candy bars, chewing gum packages, cosmetics, razor blades and many other small articles whose manufacturers have been using 6,500 TONS annually of lead and tin for foil, now proscribed, will also have to find a substitute covering.

Every kind of food you eat contains them, and a person in ordinary health who eats ordinarily good, home-cooked meals gets his full quota of energy and nourishment from his meals.

DISCRETION MUST GUIDE FREEDOM OF ADDRESS

FORUM SPEAKER CITES EXAMPLES WHERE TOO MUCH FREEDOM GIVES OFFENSE

CENTERVILLE—Professor Max Radin of the University of California faculty spoke at length Monday night at the weekly Public Forum meeting in Washington High school on the first half of his topic, "Civil Liberties and the Preparation for War," but did not touch on the latter half of his subject.

He began his address with the founding of nation, saying it was the only nation ever conceived in the several liberties, now well-established in America. No question on the citizens' liberty of speech came up for about a century, or until our participation in the world war in 1917, which brought up the question: is there to be any limitation on the citizen's freedom of speech?

He said present lawmakers were opposed to unlimited freedom of speech of the type which leads to acts of violence. He mentioned recent state laws requiring salutes to the flag and popular discrimination against certain religious sects such as Jehovah's witnesses.

Another example of suppression of freedom of action appeared during the last war when the showing of a film on Paul Revere's Ride was banned in California, as it was felt showing of this patriotic film might engender anti-British sentiment among the public, and England was our ally then as she is now.

Another little known example of the need for exercising discretion along with the practice of freedom of speech was found in the avoidance of singing the third verse of The Star Spangled Banner, one line of which, referring to the British in the Revolutionary war, reads: "washed with their blood what their foul footsteps polluted." Free speech has to be restricted, he indicated, when its practice leads to racial or class discord.

The speaker closed with the epigram that "We are not the posterity of the Founding Fathers unless we carry out their ideals as framed in the Constitution." He remained for an unusually long question-and-answer period conducted by Forum Chairman Jack Rees.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Garcia of the Niles rural district enjoyed their Thanksgiving dinner at Fort Ord as the guest of Private Robert Duarte.

"SERGEANT YORK" IS PACKING 'EM IN AT NILES THEATRE

"Sergeant York," one of the year's outstanding motion pictures is playing to full houses just at present at the Niles Theatre. The last performance will be given Friday evening.

The picture, which is framed around the home environment of America's most celebrated soldier in the last war, stars Gary Cooper in the part of the lanky soldier who was raised in the Cumberland Mountains.

York, a sharp-shooting farmer who "gets religion" in his own manner, is a fellow who hates no one and registers as a conscientious objector when he is drafted during the World War. An understanding officer in his company, played by Stanley Ridges, shows him that violence is sometimes necessary to insure freedom. York turns out to be not only a good soldier, but one of the bravest heroes in the A.E.F.

Joan Leslie has the feminine lead opposite Cooper, and is seen as Gracie Williams, the present Mrs. York. Walter Brennan is cast as Pastor Pile, life-long friend of York, whose homely philosophy became part of York's creed.
